

INTRO

Brianna: Welcome back to "On It!" with Stephens Life, I'm Brianna Jackson.

Jessica: I'm Jessica Langford and we have an exciting episode for you this evening.

Brianna: That's right we have a few special guest coming in that you wouldn't want to miss but like always before we do anything else let's jump into hot topics.

HOT TOPICS

Brianna: Last week, Jon Stewart announced he's stepping down as the host of The Daily Show.

CUE THE DAILY SHOW VO: Stewart let the news slip at the taping of February 10th episode, telling those in the audience that he's retiring after 16 years. Later that day, Comedy Central released an official statement confirming the news, saying Stewart will remain with The Daily Show until later this year.

CUE PETITION STILL: There are currently two petitions on Change.org for correspondent, Jessica Williams to be the next host of the show.

Jessica: Now you know I have a love for super hero movies. Sony recently agreed to lease out Spider-man to Marvel to appear in an unspecific Marvel Comics Universe movie.

CUE SPIDER-MAN VO: The most popular theory is that New York's friendly neighborhood Spider-man will debut in the Marvel world in 2016's Captain America: Civil War, which features Captain America and Iron Man. But there's an issue: Who will play Marvel's Spider-man? Sony has expressed displeasure with the latest incarnation, Andrew Garfield, and Marvel would benefit from the casting.

CUE DANNY GLOVER STILL: Rumor has it that actor/rapper, Danny Glover will play the next Spider-man.

MUSIC

Jessica: Surprise! Surprise! Only hours after releasing the 15-minute short film, "Jungle" Drake surprised all of us with a new mixtape.

CUE DRAKE STILL: 'If You're Reading This It's Too Late' was dropped on iTunes on the night of Feb. 12th, six years after his well renowned mixtape, 'So Far Gone.' This 17-track mixtape has already been receiving pretty good reviews. Have you all heard it yet?

Brianna: One of Taylor Swift's fans tagged the singer on a Tumblr post explaining that her boyfriend had just broken up with her over a text message.

CUE TAYLOR SWIFT STILL: She explained to Swift that he wouldn't get back with her unless she would "do irrational things." The Tumblr user didn't expect Taylor to respond, but when Swift did, she gave some pretty good advice. She told her that she knew it was hard losing someone, especially like that, but she told her to block his number and if she were to see him, Swift said, "there is nothing wrong with avoiding people who hurt you." She even made a break up/ moving on playlist for the girl.

CAMPUS NEWS

Jessica: In the next few months, students from various departments will be appearing in many conferences and festivals around the country. Film students, Clara Canfield, Haley Padilla, Livvy Runyon, and Kristen Izzett won Best Technical Direction at Mizzou's Valentine's Day Film Festival, last year. With that, they won a free camera rental opportunity. They are currently working on a new film.

Brianna: Ms. Padilla will also be accompanying senior, Sara Barnett and professor Kate Gray at the American Institute of Graphic Arts Student Conference in St. Louis on February 21st. Graphic design student, Fiona Kerr will also be attending the Game Developers Conference in San Francisco a week following the AIGA Conference.

Jessica: Lastly, in March, Coral Hoelscher, Maggie Myers, Sarah Parris, and Shelly Romero will be attending the Sigma Tau Delta International Convention in Albuquerque, New Mexico. This is a pretty big deal for these four English majors. This is the first time that students that submitted their work have been accepted to present at the convention.

Brianna: Here are some of the future events coming to campus:

CUE EVENT LIST STILL: Support the Stars as they play against our neighbors, Columbia College tomorrow evening in the Silverthrone Arena. Check out the complete basketball schedule on the schools website.

Tomorrow the theatre department will premiere their play, "What Every Girl Should Know." This performance will continue on until Sunday, the 21st.

Join Citizen Jane, in the screening of "Warrior One." The screening will be followed by a Q&A with the filmmakers.

Had a long week? No worries! Friday is break day! That's right. There are no classes this Friday. So relax and take a break. You deserve it.

Jessica: Ok everybody we're going to take quick break and we'll be right back!

*COMMERICAL BREAK***

GUEST SEGMENT

Jessica: Alright so we are here now with our special guest, Amanda Wooden. Amanda is our new director of Career Services.

*Q&A***

Jessica: What is the Career Service Department?

What services do you offer?

What current events do you have?

When are these events?

Where can we get more information?

Jessica: Thank you for coming in!

FASHION

Brianna: Speaking of internships, we have our girl Colby Elliott, teaching us the ways of fashion in the business world. Colby?

COLBY CLOSET

Colby: Back to you, Brianna.

Brianna: Thanks Colby. Love film festivals? Up next, we have a special guest here to talk about a film festival coming to Columbia next month.

GUEST SEGMENT

Brianna: Hello and welcome back! We're here now with Jordon Collin and Polina Malikin from True/False Festival to talk to us about this exciting weekend.

*Q&A***

Brianna: What is True/False?

When is the Festival?

What films will be shown?

What are some of the events during the festival?

How can someone get involved?

Where can we get more information?

Brianna: Thank you so much for coming in!

CLOSE

Jessica: We would like to thank all of our lovely guest today, everyone who has helped us put this show together and thank you all for your support.

Brianna: In the meantime, visit blog.stephens.edu/stephenslife/ for the latest news from around campus. Thanks for tuning in and we'll see you on the next episode!
