

INTRO

Brianna: Welcome back to "On It!" with Stephens Life, I'm Brianna Jackson.

Jessica: I'm Jessica Langford and we have an exciting episode for you this evening.

Brianna: That's right we have a few special guest coming in that you wouldn't want to miss but we're going to change things up a bit. We usually discuss Hot Topics but too much stuff happened in music over the break that we have to discuss, so let's jump into that first.

MUSIC

Brianna: ON IT! isn't the only thing that recently got reunited. CUE DC VO: This past Saturday, March 28th, Destiny Child was reunited once again for the Steelar Awards, which is a gospel award show. The trio sang the song, "Say Yes" off of Michelle Williams fourth gospel album, "Journey to Freedom." This is their first time on the stage since Beyonce Super Bowl performance in 2013.

You can catch this performance, and many more on, April 5th on TV One.

CUE DRESS STILL:

Jessica: Reunions are great; Especially Destiny Childs. But with all reunions, you have break ups. CUE OD VO: One Direction's very own, Zayn Malik decided to leave the group for a solo career. The remaining four members performed without Zayn for the first time in Johannesburg, South Africa this past Saturday. The show went pretty well, but they did not mention Zayn during the show. Hopefully they can sit down and talk some things out. It's weird not seeing Zayn in the mix.

Brianna: Guess who's coming to town? If you guesst, the recent Academy Award-winning rapper Common, you're right! Yep! CUE COMMON VO: Common himself will be coming Columbia. You can hear him speak at the Missouri Theatre on April 8th at 7pm. Tickets are $10 for students and $15 for the general public. Tickets are available at the box office on the first floor of MIZZOU's Student Center. For more information, you can contact the Missouri Students Association on their website, msa.missouri.edu.

HOT TOPICS

Jessica: Now it's time for some hot topics. We're playing bas-ketballlllllll! CUE MARCH MADNESS VO: Things has been a little crazy lately due to March Madness; especially since we're getting closer to our top four of the bunch. The National Semifinals air on April 4th in the Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis. And the final two teams go head-to-head in the same location on the 6th? Check us out on our Facebook page and tell us what teams are you rooting for. CUE FB LOWERTHIRD: Brianna do you follow basketball? What team are you rooting for?

Brianna: Love movies? Well, there's a movie coming out this weekend that I'm pretty sure everyone has been waiting for. You guessed it! Fast and Furious 7! This last addition to the Fast & Furious series has people on the edge of their seats. And of course, you will see the familiar faces of Vin Diesel, Dwayne Johnson, and rapper Ludacris. But the question rises on how the late Paul Walker will be portrayed in the film? Will he be killed off? Will he retire? I guess we all will find out this Friday when the movie releases. So Jessica, what's new around campus these days?

CAMPUS NEWS

Jessica: In case you missed it. CUE CHANGES STILL Before break, Academic Affairs announced a number of administrative changes that will go into action in Fall 2015, the most noted being a change in certain schools.

The School of Fashion and Design will merge with SOLSC (School of Leadership and Strategic Communications), to create the School of Design with Dean Monica McMurry leading it. Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Suzan Harkness explained that the merger is an administrative rather than a degree, program or curricular change. So, even though the new of the school has changed, the programs within each school will not change degree title or curriculum.

Besides, this isn't too crazy of a thought considering the schools were already sharing faculty, students, and spaces. The new School of Design will offer the opportunity to infuse new kinds of collaboration and creative thinking into all of its programs.

Brianna: CUE CHANGES STILL: The School of Humanities and Sciences will now become the School of Health Sciences, as the Humanities programs will join the School of Interdisciplinary Studies with Dean Leslie Willey. This means those in English, creative writing, psychology and human development - psychology will now be with digital filmmaking, education, equestrian studies and human development.

Both of these changes have been made in an effort to consolidate, as well as accommodate the growth in enrollment, new degrees and progress in being recognized for creative arts and health sciences.

Jessica: Here are some of the future events coming to campus: CUE EVENT LIST STILL: In celebration of their first year on campus, tonight TRYPS will open their Junie B. Jones: The Musical at 7pm in the Macklanburg Playhouse. This event is free for the Stephens community. Go and support the kids!

The weekly 'Building Self-Esteem Group, happens tomorrow at 12:30pm in the Counseling Center in the lower level of Stamper Commons. This event is for those who are interested in defining self-esteem, understanding why it's vital to certain aspects in life and much more. You don't have to rsvp for the event and you can even get community engagement points.

Brianna: Guess what's coming up next week? Honors Convocation! Can you believe it? This event will happen on April 6th at 3pm in the Kimball Ballroom. Look out for who will be honored and who is also in the mythical group, the Ten. That's right, the women of the Ten will be there to reveal themselves. This is something you don't want to miss.

FASHION

Brianna:

Brianna:

Jess:

COLBY CLOSET

Jessica: Ok everybody we're going to take quick break and we'll be right back!

Brianna:

COMMERICAL BREAK

GUEST SEGMENT

Brianna: In honor of April Fools day, we have a very special guest with us today.

Jess: Yes, the jokester herself, Nicole Iher is back on the show to not only give us some laughs but also tell us what it's like in the life of a student and also a comedian.

G&A

When did you first realize your talent?

What made you say, "I'm going to be a comedian!"

When and where was your first performance?

How did it go?

You recently participated in the schools talent show, how did that go?

Do you mind talking about Autism and the importance of it?

What should everyone know about Autism that you think no one knows?

When is your next performance?

Where can we get more information?

Do you want to share a quick joke to give us an idea of your work?

CLOSE

Jessica: We would like to thank our lovely guest today, everyone who has helped us put this show together and thank you all for your support.

Brianna: In the meantime, visit our Youtube page www.youtube.com/StephensLifeMagazine for the latest news from around campus. Thanks for tuning in and we'll see you on the next episode.